

Bentley World-Packaging Announces Grand Opening in Chambersburg, PA

Milwaukee, WI, March 2006— Midwest company Bentley World-Packaging, Ltd., is now operating in its newly built facility in Chambersburg, Pennsylvania. Based in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Bentley has expanded its business after following a Midwest-based client that relocated to the Chambersburg area. Owner Thomas Bentley III states, “In addition to serving our current customer needs, we’ve found a considerable need for our specialty, shipping product overseas. We’ve been greeted warmly and have developed new business relationships in a strong industrial-based community.”

Located at 5105 Technology Avenue in the Cumberland Valley Business Park, Bentley World-Packaging, Ltd. provides complete export packaging, military packaging, warehousing and distribution services. The brand new 20,000 square foot security-fenced facility is expandable to 60,000 square feet. Easily accessible, the facility is located within 5 miles of Interstate 81, less than 20 miles from the Pennsylvania Turnpike Blue Mountain Exit and 30 miles from Maryland Interstates 68/70. Facility features include a rail spur for loading and unloading rail freight, a drive-through bay to unload flatbeds with 16'x18' doors, dock shelters and a 15-ton Gantry crane for loading high tonnage freight. The new facility is supplemented by an additional 20,000 square feet of leased warehouse space in nearby St. Thomas.

Founded in 1942, Bentley World-Packaging, Ltd. has grown to serve over 500 customers in Wisconsin and the Greater Midwest, Georgia and Pennsylvania. Bentley manufactures and packs wood crates, provides specialized and custom corrugated packaging containers, blocking and bracing of sea containers and mobile on-site services at manufacturers' facilities.
